

GLOBAL DAY

On the Friday before half term we all enjoyed working together in our teams. Children looked at the Rights of the Child, the Rights of Animals and Votes for Women. The children produced some lovely posters with both writing and pictures. Miss Ashman and Miss Stephenson discussed animals in circuses and zoos, and children made a mind map of the rights they felt animals should have. Mrs Martin and Mrs Rowe celebrated 100 years of women getting the vote. The children listened to stories from suffragettes and there was a boys v girls 'shouting match'. They also looked into the lives of Emmaline Pankhurst and Emily Davison. Miss Worth and Mrs Bunt discussed the UN Convention Rights of the Child and played a game of wants and needs. We talked about our rights and the responsibilities that are a part of our rights, then each created a dove with a right and responsibility that was important to us on the wings for a display.

ROCK BAND WORKSHOPS

Drum teacher Tom Howarth is proposing to bring in a full live instrumental set up - electric guitar, bass, keyboards, drums and a vocal mic, and run lessons learning how to play these instruments (at a very basic level), learn a short contemporary pop song, and have them perform it in front of the school after ten weeks of sessions, with the hope of booking a larger venue and run a yearly charity concert where all the bands that have formed can play to a bigger audience in a proper gig setting. If there is enough interest this would run as an after school club during the summer term and would cost £5 per week.. If your child is interested please complete and return the slip below, if there is enough interest we will organise a date with Tom.

NURSERY NEWS

Our letter sound next week is 'a'. As part of our topic of 'Around the World' our theme next week will be France and we will be looking at picture atlases. Next Thursday, 1st March, is World Book Day and we ask that children come to Nursery dressed as their favourite book character. Show and Tell is now on Wednesday and Thursday, when your child can bring something in related to our topic to share.

ADVICE FROM DEVON AND CORNWALL POLICE REGARDING SEXTING

Devon & Cornwall Police and the Office of the Police and Crime Commissioner for Devon and Cornwall (OPCC), have launched a campaign to educate young people about the consequences of sexting. Sexting is the term used for the sending or receiving of sexual, naked or semi-naked images or videos which can be taken by a young person of themselves (i.e. a selfie), or by others.

It is illegal for anyone to take, send, receive or share these types of images of anyone under 18 – included selfies. Devon & Cornwall Police's primary concern is to avoid criminalising young people where it is not appropriate, which is why we have launched this campaign to educate young people and their parents.

Reports of under 18s sexting in Devon and Cornwall have nearly tripled in recent years, from 115 reports between November 2015 and October 2016, to 440 reports between November 2016 and October 2017. These statistics show the speed at which this issue has grown. "Our main message to young people is this: when you press send, you lose control of that image – where it ends up on the internet and who sees it – you're not just breaking the law."

Advice for parents around sexting:

Talk to your children about sexting, the law and the potential dangers of sexting:

- 9/10 selfies end up somewhere else on the internet - when you press send, you lose control
- It's illegal to take, send or receive 'sexts' of anyone under 18, including selfies!
- Not all teenagers are doing it, even if that's what they tell their friends
- If they've done it and it's gone wrong, speak to an adult they trust

If it has happened:

- Stay calm and support your child
- Take the device, don't screenshot, don't forward on
- Speak to your child's school, they have the power to help
- Remember: it is illegal, but the police will always help young people and safeguard them in the first instance
